Protect your home and personal information while selling

Protect Your Personal Information

Before listing your home, remove or store items that reveal personal details:

- Family photos
- Mail and financial documents
- Calendars and paperwork
- Wi-Fi passwords or computer logins

Secure Valuables

Store important belongings in a safe place before showings.

Consider locking away:

- Jewelry
- Prescription medications
- Firearms
- Cash and important documents

Prepare for Visitors

Throughout the selling process, your home may be visited by:

- Buyers
- Contractors
- Home inspectors
- Other real estate professionals
- Appraisers

Your REALTOR® can help coordinate access while keeping your home secure and your sale moving forward.

"A little preparation helps protect what matters most."

Be Mindful of Photos & Video

Professional listing photos help market your home, but it's important to think about what may appear in them.

Before photography or showings:

- ✓ Remove personal photos
- ✓ Hide sensitive documents
- ✓ Ask your REALTOR® about discouraging unauthorized photography during tours
